Call for Papers

After two great years in Melbourne, we are returning to Sydney for CMGA2006. We are currently building our program and are inviting abstract submissions from anyone interested in being part of this annual event. As a speaker, you will be an integral part of CMGA2006. Our program aims to foster existing knowledge and assist our delegates in acquiring new insights and skills. Your paper can be targeted towards a variety of audiences: people new to the field, established professionals, technical managers, or academics.

Speaker registration costs are heavily discounted. Just another incentive to be a speaker at CMGA2006.

Topics of Interest

Papers should be focused on Performance Evaluation, Performance Measurement and Performance Management on the following platforms:

- z/OS & S/390®
- Unix (Linux, SUN®, HPUX®, AIX®)/Open Systems
- Windows Server (NT/2000/XP/.NET)®/ Intel®

and in the following key areas of interest at a introductory, technical or management level:

- Web/Internet
- Capacity Management
- Storage Management
- Applications Performance
- ITIL
- Virtualisation
- Service Oriented Architecture (SOA)

The class of the paper can be technical tutorials, user experiences or original research. Based on attendee feedback, preference will be given to user and practical experience papers intended for a predominantly technical audience.

Late-breaking papers on cutting edge technology will also be accepted.

Non-Marketing Policy

CMGA is a platform and vendor independent user group and have a "no marketing" policy for all conference presentations. For more details please refer to "CMGA Publication Guidelines" at: www.cmga.org.au/cmgapol.pdf

Publication

All CMGA2006 papers will be published in the CMGA On-line Proceedings and may be shared with other CMG's and their members. Selected papers will also be published in the CMG Journal (International Edition.)

Assistance

Assistance and encouragement for new speakers is available from experienced conference presenters. Feedback is also provided by a peer review board during the abstract, first and final draft stages.
